PROSPECTUS

RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE.

In the third week of June, 1852, will be commenced, in the city of Washington, a Weekly Campaign Newspaper, under the above title.

It will be devoted to the maintenance of genuine republican principles as avowed and practised by the great WHIG PARTY of the United States; to the preservation of the NATIONAL UNION, and of the RIGHTS OF THE STATES and the RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE under that Union; and in an especial manner to the election of GENERAL WINFIELD SCOTT, as the nominee of the Whig National Convention, to the Presidency of this Republic.

It will be the agreeable duty of the editor to dwell and to descant upon the merits of a man around whose brow are entwined the laurels gathered on many a victorious field. During the long period of forty years his talents, his valor, and his humanity have nobly illustrated his country's honor; and the patriotic masses, the toiling millions of our widely-extended country. will, on the seventh of November next, arise in their power and majesty to bestow their suffrages upon their honored fellow-citizen-the hero, the patriot, and sage—and to proclaim THE GRATITUDE OF A REPUBLIC!

THE RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE will be published once a week-from the third week of June until the third week of November-at fifty cents.

authorized to reserve twenty-five per cent. for their trouble, or the advantage of this deduction may be shared by all the members of a club; and for each ten subscribers, on these terms, an eleventh copy will be also sent.

The notes of all specie-paying banks, gold, silver, and letter-stamps, will be received in payment. Address, T. C. CONNOLLY,

MAY, 1852.

Congress To-day. SENATE .- Among other business, several memorials were presented asking for the passage of The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the bill granting to the State of Wisconsin a doof a railroad from the city of Milwaukie to the Mississippi river, and it was ordered to be engrossed for a third reading. The Senate resumed the consideration of the deficiency bill

House of Representatives .- The House went into Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union and proceeded to the consideration of bills relating to the Territories of the United States. There was little or nothing done of general in-

Senator James. We have been favored with a pamphlet copy of the speech of the Hon. C. T. James, in advocacy of extending further aid to the Collins line of steamships, delivered in the Senate on the 6th of May. This worthy gentleman represents, in part, that member of the Union which the incomparable statesman and orator, Henry Clay, upon one occasion styled "gallant little Rhodie. The speech we have read with singular pleasure, and from it we have derived instruction. Senator J. is a self-made man, the architect of his own fortunes. His talents are of a useful. practical, varied, and substantial order. He belongs to the Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, Daniel Sheffy, and Tristram Burgess school of practical, common-sense, business-like statesmen. " As an American citizen and an American mechanic, (said Senator J.,) I feel proud of the Collins line, and hope it may be sustained." The ground of the advocacy of the measure, on the part of the Senator, is that all the interests of the country, commercial, agricultural, and manufacturing, should be cherished and protected by the government. Abstractions he rejects, and marches up to the good old Whig doctrine of protection, the doctrine of the gifted and lamented Calhoun in 1816, and of the "Sage of Ashland" at all times. But the bravest and most successful protectionist who has figured in our country, in our day, is General Winfield Scott. It was his high privilege, again and again, to protect the safety of the Union, to bear aloft the flag-the "stars and stripes," emblematical of the glory of the country. May we not hope to find the able and excellent Senator from Rhode Island fighting under his banner? As the Napoleon of the press would say, " Nous Verron."

Why Did Colonel Warren Resign! The Philadelphia Sun, which is a particularly pious Fillmore and anti-Scott journal, says:

"It is understood that the resignation has arisen from Mr. Warren's avowed preference for Gen. Scott as the Whig nominee for President, which the Postmaster General said it was unbecoming in the head of a bureau to express. We do not believe Mr. Hall ever made such a remark; but the action of Mr. Warren indicates a high sense of honor, which others holding office unde the government would do well to follow."

Of course the Scott men will now all vamose.

[From the Republic of this morning]

The Union Party in Alabama. Portions of the Union party in East Alabama refuse to acquiesce in the movement for sending delegates to the National Convention, and are holding meetings in favor of maintaining the Union platform as a distinct organization. The resolutions adopted at Whig county and district conventions, recommending the election of delegates to the National Convention, have already been published in our columns. An advance been published in our columns. An adverse meeting has since been held in Russell county when resolutions were ageeed to, declaring that it is impossible to affiliate with the Whig or Democratic party as it now stands-opposing the sending of delegates to the convention of either party—recommending the holding of the pro-posed Union Convention in Washington to nominate candidates pledged "to sustain the Compro-mise measures as a final settlement of the slavery question, and especially a final determination to execute faithfully the fugitive slave law"—and cordially approving of the course pursued by Mr. Abercrombie, the district representative, in regard to the Whig caucus. The Republic accompanies this statement with to expression of disapprobation or regret. And now could it, after having labored for full two years in producing this very state of thingsin giving Georgia to Cobb, and Mississippi to Foote-in annihilating the Whig party to force into existence a Union party composed of the projectors of the Compromise laws, and thereby reate a necessity for the continued existence of the parties opposed to those laws or to any one

The Compromise laws consist of the following: 1st. An act admitting California as a free

2d. The establishment of the boundary line be tween Texas and New Mexico, and the payment

3d. The institution of Territorial governments for New Mexico and Utah, without prescribing the exclusion of slavery.

4th. The suppression of the importation of slaves into the District of Columbia.

5th. A law to recover fugitive slaves. 6th. A declaration that in future States may be of ten millions of dollars to the former.

admitted into the Union with or without slavery. We are in favor of the preservation of these aws, and we rejoice in the conviction that they will not and cannot be repealed; but shall we therefore desire that every American citizen who does not assent to each one of them shall therefore be driven from the two parties? Or, still more, shall it be our purpose to expel from these parties, not only those who are now averse to the enforcement of any one of these laws, but also all who will not acknowledge them to be just such laws as they themselves would have taking these laws for its platform.

As the lex loci of the Whigs of Alabama, we can of course have little to say of this measure. If there there exists a party opposed to the Union, and opposed to the enforcement of the Compronise laws, the Whigs there are the best judges of the necessity or propriety of an organized opposition to that party upon the Compromise platorm. But for ourselves we think now as we have ever thought, that the preservation of the Union can best be secured by the avoidance of issues involving the question of its integrity.

In our opinion a majority of the citizens of this republic would not in the first instance, and do not now, wholly approve of all the laws embodied in the "omnibus bill," as above recapitulated: vet few are now dissatisfied with them. and still fewer would, if they had the power, disturb them. But the certain knowledge of these facts will not suffice; we must all declare our belief in the immaculacy per se of each law, whether we really entertain such belief or not; and the central organ of a Whig administration would have our profession of faith in this immaculacy the test of our political orthodoxy.

The only question for the Whig party to determine in this eventful year is that proposed to himself by a certain distinguished Danish prince: it is, "TO BE, OR NOT TO BE!" If we resolve to nation of public lands to aid in the construction be, we will continue to be ourselves; if we resolve not to be, we will then be changed into somebody else, and there will be no hereafter for us-no bourne for us to arrive at, much less to return from! The question is one of eternal life or eternal death, so far as the idea of eternity can apply to political parties.

The Whig party can only exist as a national party. If the counsels of the Republic prevail, and all or any of the Six Laws be made the Shiboleth of our party, there will be many slain who cannot give it utterance!

Neutrals.

The Baltimore Clipper, ever quiet, respectful, discreet, and intelligent, is daily arguing the impropriety and impolicy of the nomination of Gen. Scott. This it does editorially and through its correspondence.

The Baltimore Sun takes no such editorial responsibility, but gives place daily to the letters of its two able and intelligent Democratic correspondents, who are laboring most zealously to bring about the nomination of the weakest Whig and the strongest Democrat possible to be selected.

General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church.

The sermon by Dr. Barnes, this morning, was of near two hours' length, a masterly effort, and ery Presbyterian. He concluded at a quarter past one o'clock, immediately after which the Assembly was organized.

The sessions are conducted with open doors. Rev. Mr. Adams, D. D., of the Fourth Presbytery of New York, was elected Moderator, and Rev. John N. Lewis, of the Presbytery of Hudson, was chosen temporary clerk

We learn that private despatches were yester lay received in this city from New Mexico, via St. Louis, to the effect that a revolution was apprehended there : and that Gov. Calhoun, who is convalescing after a protracted illness, had availed himself of such military assistance as could be procured to resist and quell whatever of opposition to the laws should arise.

The De Ahna Case.

We understand that the counsel for the prosecution in this case yesterday objected to the reception of testimony to prove the truthfulness of the libellous charges against Madame Tochman; but remarked that such proofs could come up fairly before the court, in extenuation, in an invocation for its clemency.

The Hon. Mr. Gentry. The Union of this morning quotes Mr. Gentry against the Whigs-the high-souled, noble, eloquent Gentry! Sic itur ad astra!

This gentleman receives the calls of his friends in the afternoons and evenings. He has a fine little boy in his suite whom every body should see-a very interesting child for his size!

Public School Demonstration,

While we write, the air resounds with the music of the "spirit-stirring drum, the ear-piercing fife," the sonorous bugle; and banners are floating on the breeze! Hundreds and thousands of children are arrayed in procession, accomanied by their teachers, by the Trustees of our Public Schools, and by gentlemen connected with our city government. They are now moving oward the Capitol to present to the Congress of he nation (our only legislature) a memorial sking assistance in aid of these schools.

The spectacle is one of grandeur and beauty-"demonstration" as gratifying to the patriot and philanthropist as is ever exhibited in this or any other country. While theorists are devising plans for the future guidance of our government, these schools are quietly but surely preparing for the duties of life the men and the women whose labors and influence alone can preserve us a free. a happy, and a prosperous people. May their equests, preferred in a spirit of becoming deference and profound respect, be listened to and granted by the enlightened legislature of our country—the benefactors to whom is addressed their honorable and touching appeal.

Dearly as we cherish every possible means of mmediate improvement in the physical condition of the United States, we regard every other species of improvement as paling into insignificance when compared with the intellectual, the moral, and the religious culture of the young.

There were eighteen hundred and forty-six children in the procession. The presentation of the memorial took place on the eastern portico of the Capitol. The mayor of the city, W. Lenox, esq., opened the ceremonies in an address to the committee. The petition was read by Rev. Charles A. Davis, Secretary of the Board of Trustees. It was received and responded to by Hon. Joseph R. Chandler, of Pennsylvania, in an eloquent, brilliant, and feeling address. Mr. Chandler made a most happy allusion to the statue of Washington, in view of his young hearers, in which the illustrious Father of his Country is represented as pointing to Heaven. The applause here elicited was long-continued and enthusiastic. He concluded by wishing to the children all the happiness a sound education and virtuous life could impart, and pledged himself to use his best endeavors to promote the objects of their prayer.

Mr. Forrest as Richelieu.

To-night we are to enjoy that rare luxury of this grand personation, and doubtless the National Theatre will be crowded to witness it. It enacted? This is the effect of an organization is a character entirely distinct from any that Mr. Forrest has yet delineated in Washington-a character entirely intellectual, and surrounded by incidents of a most instructive and thrilling interest. The play itself is the finest of all modern compositions for the stage, and has elevated Mr. Bulwer to a high position among dramatic writers. The Richelieu of Mr. Forrest is his own. He studied the character, and performed it before any English actor had given his idea of it to this country; and now, by common consent, it stands out as a grand and impressive creation of his genius. Those who have seen Mr. Forrest in Othello and in Damon, will be surprised to see the skill and the truth to nature with which he represents the old, decrepid, wily, experienced, and intellectual Richelieu. The play will be put upon the stage this evening with all the force of Mr. Marshall's fine corps of actors, Madame Ponisi having reached here last evening to assist Mr. Forrest in this as well as in the other performances in preparation for the Washington public. She is a lady of deservedly high repute in New York and in Philadelphia, and cannot fail to establish herself as a favorite in this metrop-

The Madam Tochman Libel Case. A despatch appears in the Baltimore American of this morning, and we suppose in other distant papers, which states that a libel case of the United States against Henri de Ahna for false assertions against the character of Madam Tochman (formerly Appollonia Jagiello,) contained in a libellous publication which appeared in the Washington Telegraph, &c., was yesterday taken up. This despatch, like many others, is a libellous publication. No publication in disparagement of the character of Madam Tochman, or of any other lady, ever appeared in this paper, nor does any indictment so allege.

Let it be remembered that the Thomas Collver will leave Washington to-morrow at 9 o'clock a. m. for Mount Vernon, and the George Washingtog will leave at 2 o'clock p. m. for Fort Washington and Glymont. Fair skies and pleasant breezes waft them! Amen!

John B. Gough is lecturing on the subject of temperance, in Pittsburgh, with great success. His moral and cloquent sussion is worth more than a dozen restrictive enactments.- Exchange

That is all very well, and his "moral and eloquent suasion" are acceptable. But let us ask a question. A few years ago, when J. B. was in New York, he was suddenly missed; and after a few days he was found in a very miserable condition and in miserable company. He could tell nothing, and knew nothing, except that a glass of mineral water had been drugged for him, and having drank it he was taken to a groggery and almost ruined by the excesses into which he was led. Whether would "moral and eloquent suasion," or "restrictive enactments," have served the better to protect him? We bring up the reminiscence in no unkindness, but because it is appropriate and pertinent when he is to be used as a foil against restrictive enactments.

"JOHN W. MAURY is announced as a candidate for the Mayoralty at the ensuing election in June."

MANY CITIZENS.

MANY CITIZENS.

In making the above announcement, it is deemed proper to say that a large number of citizens of all parties, from the several Wards of the city, addressed to Mr. Many a few days ago a communication expressing their wish to present his name to his fellow-citizens as a candidate for the Mayoralty at the ensuing election, independent of all questions connected with the politics of the day, and solely in consideration of his long and useful services in the Councils, and of his fitness for the place.

To this communication the following reply has been received:

ceived:

"I have received your communication. Whatever might have been my personal wishes on the subject, it would have been difficult for me to resist the friendly call you have made upon me; but, agreeing as I do entirely with all that you have said as to the inexpediency of bringing national politics into our city elections, I most cheerfully place my name at your disposal as a candidate for the Mayoralty at the ensuing election. "JOHN W. MAURY."

A S the friends of other candidates for this office are already active in their behalf, I desire to present the name of the present incumbent, WALTER LENOX, esq., for re-election. It is to be expected that personal preference will, to some extent, govern the choice of many, but before the community generally, honest and discerning in the decision, is not the proper question, "What is the public interest?" It must be admitted by every reflecting citizen interest?" It must be admitted by every reflecting citizen that sudden and uncalled-for change is not only unjust to the officer, but to the public interest. It takes away the personal motive and ambition which induce the faithful performance of duty, and loses to the public the benefit of official experience. If the present incumbent has discharged the duties of the office with ability and zeal, and can hereafter bring to it the advantage of practical experience, I trust that the people of Washington will not use the elective franchise to their own injury and the injustice of a public officer.

A Card.

To the Editor of the Telegraph: Six: Having been informed, from various sources, that it s industriously circulated throughout the city that I have withdrawn my name from the canvas for the Mayoralty, beg leave to announce to the voters of Washington that, having been put in nomination by a respectable portion of my fellow-citizens, of the bone and sinew, I shall keep the eld, victor, or vanquished, against all comers.

To secure the services of a gentleman eminently qualified for that enlightened and liberal legislation so essentially necessary to meet the present exigencies of a rapidly-increasing population, provide for the future prosperity and greatness of our city, and check a tendency to fanatical extremes, we nominate Mr. JOSEPH WIMSATT for the Board of Aldermen, from the Second Ward, at the approaching election in June next, and earnestly hope that the citizens of the Ward will lay aside all political and personal prejudices and preferences, and go for the public welfare, by giving him their united sunport.

DEAUTIFUL, NEW, and Choice Property at Auction.—On Monday, the 24th inst., I shall sell, at 6 o'clock p. m., on the premise; a beautiful new six-story Brick Residence, situated on part of Lot No. 85, in Square No. 685, fronting 28 feet on North Capitol street, midway between the Capitol and new Raliroad Depot, immediately opposite Gen. Washington's house, now occupied by Com. Wilkes. The above-described house is just finished, and no expense has been spared to make it of the most substantial kind. It has treble window frames front and back from top to bottom, and the best French thick-plate glass in the whole entire front, and a large portion of the back with Gothic cast-fron windows. Many of the arooms are large and lofty, from 19 by 6 to 34 by 6, and less. In front there is a 12-foot projecting porch, which can be ornamented by a ralling, or continuous porch or balustrade. The building is surmounted with an observatory 14 by 22 feet, from which a fine view may be had of Fort Washington, Mount Vernon, and A'exandria; also, the Upper Falls and surrounding District; the view is bonsidered much better than that from the dome of the United States Capitol. The carpenters' work was completed by Morsell, the best builder in this section of country. This location is in the centre of the city, and the most open, alry, convenient, and desirable of any portion of Washington.

After which will be sold the adjoining part of the Lot, about 27 feet front, on North Capitol street.

The sale will close by the sale of two Lots of 30 feet, which front on New Jersey avenue, in Square No. 630, immediately adjoining, on the north side of the Railroad Depot. This location—for hotels, stores, and other establishments—affords better openings for a business community than is at present known in the country, as there is now no city railroad depot in the world but has buildings, stores, boarding-houses, and hotels near to their place for the accommodation of the public, except in this city of Washington, where i
